MPA FUNDAMENTAL ELEMENTS

- Manufacturer & Private Label Supplier information, page 1
- Pricing Representation, page 3, 1.(f)
- Product Pricing Schedule
  - FOB points & initial offered price Attachment 1, Section A, pg 10
  - “EXCEL” Attachment 1, Section B, page 13
1.(f) For a period of two years following the close of the Calendar Year in which prices were offered to DSCP for products covered by this MPA, DSCP reserves the right to request documentation from the MPA Holder demonstrating DSCP’s MPA price is equal to or lower than the Company’s established tier, bracket, or other method of pricing employed for like or similar customers as DSCP. Such documentation shall include any and all factors comprising price offers that serve to make up the prices or ultimately may have an effect on the prices offered to DSCP by the MPA Holder under this MPA. MPA Holder shall explain their Company’s pricing method (see Representations and Certifications paragraph 8) in sufficient detail to allow a DoD auditor to use the statement as the framework for a MPA price audit.
The Big Food Company’s (BFC) pricing method used to set the MPA prices, is to place the Defense Supply Center Philadelphia Subsistence Prime Vendor Program purchases in the Big Food Company’s Bracket 1 used for all BFC National Accounts (current accounts include IHOP, KFC, Wendy’s, etc.). The Big Food Company is offering DSCP FOB Origin pricing as listed on the “BFC National Account Price List” (attached). DSCP is charged the same price as those National Accounts, including the same discounts and rebates afforded those accounts. The pricing is determined and records maintained at the corporate office at 100 Industrial Parkway, Smallville, OK. BFC’s price list is updated as needed giving its commercial customer 30 days notice of price changes allowing BFC to comply with the MPA price changes criteria in paragraph 1. (e).
Clearly state:

• DSCP is offered FOB Origin pricing (Destination by exception, only if approved by DSCP)
• The Company’s approach to establishing the MPA pricing.
  • How pricing is set for all commercial customers
    • How MPA pricing deviated (or not) from commercial pricing
    • DSCP MPA pricing includes same rebates and discounts given to like commercial accounts and is charged the same
  • Attach commercial and military price lists, if referenced, and explain their relevance to the MPA offered pricing
Pricing Representation

TIPS (continued)

- Clearly State:
  - Examples of like customers charged the same pricing
  - If DSCP isn’t given all the discounts that are given to its commercial accounts in the bracket you’ve identified. Place DSCP in the bracket that properly fits.
  - If your company doesn’t publish pricing explain how the current commercial and military pricing is set and how the MPA price will be set and verified by DoD

2. Manufacturer / Supplier Information: MPA page 1.
   - _____A. If your Company is the manufacturer (or uses co-packers) list yourself under “Manufacturer Information”
   - _____B. If your Company has Private Label agreements with manufacturers list your Company under “Private Label Supplier Information” and list the actual manufacturer under “manufacturer Information”
3. Pricing Representation: MPA page 3. Paragraph 1. (f)
(See Big Food Company example)

- A. The representation is attached to the last page of the MPA as an “Additional Representation and Certification” as required by 1.(f.) and 8.(b.)
- B. The representation clearly states your company is offering FOB Origin pricing.
- C. State how your company handles and establishes DSCP’s MPA account and where DSCP fits into your company’s pricing method or model for its commercial customers.
  - 1) If a Military price List is used. The representation must explain how that pricing is deviated from the commercial accounts.
  - 2) Placing DSCP’s MPA account into a like category, tier or bracket means all associated rebates and discounts afforded commercial accounts in the same bracket are given to DSCP.
  - a. If not, place DSCP in its proper bracket.
3. Pricing Representation: MPA page 3. Paragraph 1. (f) continued

- D. If you state your company does not publish and send out price lists, your representation will require more extensive explanations.

- E. Include who maintains your company’s records and where they are kept.
